It would be beneficial if your child has their own copy for homework and further reading, however, we do have several copies in school which the children can share if necessary. Please do not be tempted to read the book during the summer holidays as this can spoil the development in class.

Please make sure that all equipment is clearly labelled.

To help your children with their maths work, please keep testing their multiplication and division tables knowledge over the summer holidays.

Thank you

Mr M McArthur
